Speaking further she listed out the range of malicious activities such as phishing, malware, viruses, and even ransomware attacks. Prof. Meenakshi further discussed about various sources like hackers and cyber criminals that target both individuals and organizations. She warned the participants against the ill effects of unwanted software which may also be unintentionally downloaded and cause damage to systems. To use digital media responsibly, the speaker suggested the following points-

- 1) Be vigilant about accepting or declining friend requests.

- 2) Customize your privacy settings. For instance, customize who can get access to your page. Who can search you online? Or who can view your photos or videos?
- 3) Be mindful of what you share. As a tip, avoid sharing your location tags - especially your home address.
- 4) Don't post photos of your passport or credit card information. This may seem obvious but people get scammed because of this mistake.
